SOUTHERN UTAH IS FLYING HIGH WITH THE UP & AWAY HOT AIR BALLOON FESTIVAL

January 17 & 18, 2025, at the Staheli Family Farm.

Bring in the New Year and the sights of southern Utah as the annual Up & Away Hot Air Balloon Festival takes to the skies in Washington, Utah, Presented by The Washington Area Chamber of Commerce and TDS. Admission and parking are free.

With over 12,000 attendees last year, this year is sure to be a memorable experience for all who attend.

Each year, 30 hot air balloons soar above Washington County. Taking to the skies on both Friday and Saturday mornings, with tethered Hot Air Balloon rides available for those attending. If you would like to enjoy a ride, you must sign up on their website ahead of time at UpAndAwayBalloonFestival.com and pick up your wristbands at the Washington Chamber of Commerce office at 85 E Telegraph between 9 AM & 1 PM M-F.

This year, they have over 100 vendors, food trucks, and entertainment on both days for visitors to enjoy with their friends and families.

Starting Friday afternoon, you can enjoy the one-of-a-kind vendor and craft fair, with local entertainment with the Rising Star Talent Competition, and to finish the evening, you can sit back and relax to the Balloon Glow as the sun goes down.

Then, on Saturday morning, you can rev your inner engines at the sweet ol' Classic Car Show, so get there early to enjoy all the attractions.

For those wishing to participate in the Rising Star Talent Competition both days, visit their website to sign up for the talent competition for a shot at $500, $250, and $100 cash prizes for the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place. In addition to the balloons, the talent show, and the car show, there will also be a tasty pie-eating contest on Saturday.

AMERICAN CROSSROADS THEATRE CELEBRATES 23 SEASONS WITH MILLION DOLLAR QUARTET

SimonFest Theatre Company has changed its name to the American Crossroads Theatre and is celebrating the company's 23rd season with four musicals, the first of which is an enormously popular crowd-pleaser, Million Dollar Quartet.

On December 4, 1956, Johnny Cash, Jerry Lee Lewis, Carl Perkins, and Elvis Presley happened to stop by the Sun Records recording studio all at the same time. They decided to jam together and spent hours together in musical synergy. Million Dollar Quartet recreates and celebrates that historic day in Rock 'n' Roll history. It is a rollicking good time for audiences of all ages.

Million Dollar Quartet will play February 27th, 28th, and March 1st at 7 PM at the Heritage Center Theater in Cedar City.

"This show has taken the world by storm over the past several years," says director Richard Bugg. "Those of us old enough to remember these great artists will swim in nostalgia and great musical memories. The younger crowd will gain an appreciation for the artistry and fun of this period and these amazing artists that invented a new sound and a new American energy of celebration."

When asked why the company has changed its name, Bugg (Founder and Artistic Director) said, "For two decades we were committed to honoring and preserving the works of Neil Simon. I had a cordial relationship with Mr. Simon, but following his death, the lawyer for the Simon estate, not knowing who we were or what our mission was, pulled the rights to the Simon shows away from us. For the past few years, we have been working to re-define our brand. We believe in the power of storytelling, and the American experience. We want to be the place where stories meet — a crossroad for sharing our tales. Thus, the choice of American Crossroads Theatre."

ACT's Summer season will include the family favorite, Chitty Chitty Bang Bang, the nostalgic and heartwarming, Little Women the Musical, and the Rock classic, The Who's Tommy which will play in repertory, also at the Heritage Center Theater, from July 2nd through August 2nd.

Tickets for both the Winter performances of Million Dollar Quartet and the Summer Season are on sale now. For performance times and ticket information, go to ACTPlayers.com or call 435-267-0194. Use the code "Independent" for a 10% discount.

OTC COMEDY GOES ALL IN - 21 YEARS OF UNSTOPPABLE LAUGHS!

By Ryan McLean

OTC Comedy is hitting the jackpot as it celebrates 21 incredible years of bringing laughter and connection to the community. On Friday, January 24, 2025, at 8 PM, join us for an unforgettable night of comedy, nostalgia, and innovation at 913 S. Main Street, Cedar City, UT. Tickets are just $10 and can be purchased at otccomedy.com.

This milestone birthday party promises to be a showstopper, featuring special guests and performers from OTC's past. It's a night to reflect on over two decades of laughs while looking forward to a bold and exciting future. With 2025 on the horizon, OTC Comedy is doubling down on creativity and gearing up for a year full of surprises and fresh ideas.

As part of its commitment to staying at the cutting edge of comedy, OTC is reinventing its Friday night shows to deliver even more engaging and memorable experiences. In addition, OTC is proud to announce a brand-new monthly show called "The Improv Lab," debuting on the last Thursday of every month. This experimental series will bring together talented improvisers from OTC and beyond to push the boundaries of comedy in a bold, indie-style format. Expect a mix of wild, unpredictable experiments and innovative hits—a true testing ground for what works (and what doesn't) in the world of improv.

And don't forget: OTC Comedy will continue to deliver its signature hilarity every Friday night at 8 PM, at the OTC

Comedy Training Center with exciting themes and special events already in the works, including a Valentine's Day show on February 14 that promises to steal hearts and bring the laughs. The OTC Comedy Training Center is located at 913 S. Main in Cedar City, in the same shopping center as IFA and Dollar Tree.

A heartfelt shoutout goes to Wendy and TJ Penrod, the visionary founders of OTC Comedy, and their stalwart ace-in-the-hole Ryan "Rev" McLean, whose combined dedication has made the theater a cornerstone of Cedar City's entertainment scene. Their legacy of creativity and community inspires everything OTC does as it embarks on its 21st year.

So, ante up and join us for this monumental celebration—where the laughs are guaranteed, and the stakes have never been higher! Visit otccomedy.com to grab your tickets and stay updated on all upcoming events. Here's to 21 years of comedy gold—and the exciting future ahead!

WORLD RENOWN TRUMPET PLAYER, ETIENNE CHARLES, TO BE FEATURED AT THE ST. GEORGE JAZZ FESTIVAL

February 8, 2025 @ 7:30 PM.

St. George Jazz Brings World Renown Trumpet Player, Etienne Charles to the 9th Annual St. George Jazz Festival.

Trumpet player extraordinaire Etienne Charles will be the guest artist for the 2025 St. George Jazz Festival. Charles will perform in concert with the Rebel Jazz Band on February 8, 2025. He will also present a free clinic to students and music educators at 1:30 PM, the afternoon of the concert. Tickets will be available on the St. George Jazz Festival website.

Trinidad born, Etienne Charles is a performer, composer and storyteller, who is continuously searching for untold stories and sounds with which to tell them. He has several chart-topping albums including Creole Orchestra that spent much of the summer of 2024 at the top of the jazz world.

His lush trumpet sound, varied compositional textures and pulsating percussive grooves enable him to invoke trance, soothing and exciting listeners. His concerts engage, enlighten, educate and enrich audiences.

Friday night, February 7, features a free concert by local jazz musicians at 7:30 PM in the Eccles Concert Hall followed by an open jam session. All musicians are encouraged to participate.

The events are presented with the support of the Washington County RAP Tax, Utah Tech University, St. George Arts Commission, and Washington County School District.

Tickets for the February 8, 2025 concert are $15 for general admission or $5 for students, seniors, and veterans. Visit stgeorgejazz.com for more information.

ABOUT THE FESTIVAL

Now entering its ninth year, the St. George Jazz Festival brings world class performers to the beautiful red rocks of Southern Utah. These incredible jazz musicians inspire and educate an ever-growing pool of talented young jazz students. Joined by the Rebel Jazz Band, these nationally-acclaimed guest artists show off their skills at what continues to be Southern Utah's most thrilling concert of each year.

With tremendous performances and clinics by the rising stars and established heroes of the modern jazz world, anyone seeking an immersion in jazz will find immeasurable value in the St. George Jazz Festival. Middle school and high school jazz ensembles participate in a competition adjudicated by some of the finest jazz educators in the state of Utah. The top band of the high school division enjoys the opportunity to share the stage with legendary guest artists such as Eric Marienthal on saxophone (2017), Drew Tucker on vibraphone (2018), Wayne Bergeron on trumpet (2018), Andy Martin on trombone (2019), Chuck Findley on trumpet (2020), Bob Reynolds on saxophone (2020). Virtual guest artists in 2021 were Melissa Aldana on saxophone, Ben Rosenblum on piano, Rudreth Mahanthappa on saxophone, and Glen Marhevka on trumpet.

THE STAGE DOOR PRESENTS THE THRILLING SUSPENSE DRAMA WAIT UNTIL DARK

The Stage Door is proud to announce its upcoming production of Wait Until Dark, a spellbinding thriller by Frederick Knott, directed by Trey Paterson. This classic drama will keep audiences on the edge of their seats with performances running February 13 through March 8, 2025, every Thursday through Sunday.

Director Trey Paterson, known for his keen sense of drama and character, brings this intense and atmospheric story to life. This is a timeless thriller that showcases the strength of the human spirit in the face of danger. This cast is incredibly talented, and they're bringing a powerful energy to the stage.

Performances will be held at The Electric Theater, located at 68 E. Tabernacle in St. George, Utah. Showtimes begin at 7:30 PM on Thursdays, Fridays, and Saturdays, with Saturday matinee at 2:00 PM.

Tickets are on sale now and can be purchased online or at the Electric Theater box office One hour before the show. Don't miss this thrilling production that will leave you guessing until the very last moment.

For more information, visit StageDoorUtah.com or contact the box office at 435-656-4407.

Set in a Greenwich Village apartment in the 1960s, Wait Until Dark tells the harrowing story of Susy Hendrix, a resourceful blind woman who becomes the unsuspecting target of three criminals searching for a mysterious doll. As tension builds and danger creeps closer, Susy must outsmart her dangerous opponents in a gripping battle of wits and survival.

The production features a talented cast led by Rebecca Wright as Susy Hendrix, whose bravery and ingenuity are at the heart of this suspenseful tale. Andrew Hansen takes on the role of Mike Talman, a conman wrestling with his conscience, while Coy Shinn Jr. portrays Roat, a menacing and calculating villain. Mark Speener brings depth to the nervous and unsure Carlino, and Eric Liebhardt plays Susy's supportive husband, Sam Hendrix. Aria Williams rounds out the cast as Gloria, Susy's fiercely loyal young neighbor.

WINTER 4X4 JAMBOREE CRAWLS ACROSS SOUTHERN UTAH

January 15 - 18, 2025.

The Winter 4x4 Jamboree is an action packed 4-day off-road event held from January 15 - 18, 2025, at the Washington County Fairgrounds in Hurricane, UT. During the Winter Jamboree, you can experience some of the world-class wheeling that Washington County has to offer! We guide over 35 trails with varying difficulty over the course of the four days. From wild to mild – there is something for everyone.

All trails are located within a one-hour drive from the Fairgrounds. The majority of trails are within the Sand Mountain Special Recreation Management Area located just to the south of Sand Hollow State Park and only about five miles from the Fairgrounds. All trails are day trips but be sure to return to the fairgrounds in the afternoon. There you will: wander the Vendor Show and chat with some of the best companies the OHV community has to offer, mix and mingle with OHV enthusiasts at the Meet & Greet, check out some awesome vehicles in the Show 'N Shine, test your rig on the metal cloak trailer, grab some grub from the stellar food trucks, enjoy the RC track, and finish the fun filled weekend with a dinner and raffle. Schedule can be located on our website.

The Jamboree is run entirely by dedicated volunteers who are passionate about our trails. The non-profit 501 (c)(3)

Desert Roads and Trails Society (Desert RATS) organization that hosts the event, donates significant funds to organizations such as Blue Ribbon Coalition, Utah public Lands Alliance, Utah Four Wheel Drive Association, and Washington County Search and Rescue.

Thanks to all of our attendees last year, (that would be you!), we were able to donate nearly $78,000. In addition, your participation helped fund the paving of a road up to a staging area at the Water Tanks on Sand Mountain, the creation of a fenced parking area and new restroom facilities.

Visit Winter4x4Jamboree.com today & be sure to join us this year as we crawl through the amazingly beautiful desert landscape that is southern Utah!

ALL ABOARD! TINY TRAINS RETURN TO KANAB, UTAH

January 17-18, 2025.

The annual Kanab Train Show brings together kids and adults, fans and hobbyists, and buyers and sellers of trains to town.

Now in its tenth year, the Show is held in the Kanab Center convention hall right across from the historic Perry Lodge. Wandering between the large ballroom and adjacent expo hall, visitors will enjoy at least a dozen operating model railroad displays. "Each year, we have clubs and individuals showing virtually every size of model and toy train out there, from tiny N scale to the classic Lionel trains that many people grew up with under their Christmas trees. We'll also have the larger Garden scale trains that are popular for outdoor railways and even Lionel Standard Gauge that was popular before World War II," says Robert Lacey, the show's organizer. "Kids love our scavenger hunt that helps them explore all of the different things there are to see on these operating displays."

A highlight, among the many different displays, is the very large layout hosted by the Utah Freemo-N Club. It features a collaboration of modelers from as far away as southern California who combine forces to build a railroad empire covering 3600 square feet. Free-mo is a modular scale railroading standard designed for individual modelers' that specifies bench work, track work, scenery and digital control intended to raise-the-bar for scale modular railroading in general and, in this case, for N scale modular railroading.

There will be several model train and local food vendors plus information from several area tourist railroads. These railroads have donated tickets and other items that will be used for door prizes and as auction items to help fund next year's show. There will be lots of railroad-related things to enjoy for kids and adults alike.

Admission is $2 for adults, free for kids. Donations will be greatly appreciated. The show is open on Friday the 17th from 4 to 9 PM and again on Saturday the 18th from 9 AM to 4 PM. Visit KanabTrainShow.com for more information and be sure to grab a seat on the Kanab express!

KANAB ARTS BOARD OPENS FIRST EXHIBITION FOR 2025

Grand Opening January 16, 2025, 5:30 PM.

The Kanab Arts Board invites all art lovers to the opening of its First Quarter Exhibition on January 16, 2025, 5:30 PM at the Kane County Hospital lobby. We have an exciting line up of artists starting with Lemuel Charley, a Navajo from LeChee, AZ, who will be exhibiting his works at the Kanab City Library. Next, we have Ellie McClough and Barbara Fox from Kanab, UT, as well as Patsy Blackburn and Juanita Johnson from Freedonia, AZ, exhibiting their artworks at the Kane County Hospital lobby.

former owner of the Tortoise & the Hare RV Park in Orderville. Patsy is also a regular at local farmers' and handmade markets and teaches alcohol ink art in local studios.

Ellie Mae Clough is a New Hampshire native who relocated to Kanab in 2018. Her love of history and heritage echoes in her art. Her past encaustic art pieces were steeped in the history of a particular area in the Lakes area of NH that had been part of her family for three generations. Today, her abstract cold wax pieces show what her heart feels when viewing the historical areas here in the Southwest. The vivid colors, shapes and movement in the pieces reflect what her mind's eye has captured, and her hand has translated into image.

Barbara Fox is a stained-glass artist who specializes in the Tiffany style of stained glass. She is a recent resident of Kanab, having relocated from Apple Valley, UT. After retiring from work four years ago, she took classes on making stained glass and has not stopped creating sun catchers and small framed pieces since then.

Lanita Johnson is an artist from Freedonia who has lived in southern Utah all her life. She is a graphic designer who loves to express her creativity by capturing special moments with a camera especially when traveling.

The Kanab Arts Board First Quarter Exhibition will be up at the Kane County Hospital and Kanab City Library from January till March 2025. If you are a local artist who wants to exhibit with the Kanab Arts Board, please email KanabArts@gmail.com.

Exhibition will be open to the public at the Kane County Hospital and the Kanab City Library from January through March 2025.

Lemuel Charley is Navajo from LeChee, AZ who cultivated his place among his people and family by participating in social events, ceremonies, languages and cultural practices. At 17, he volunteered into the Army "Regular Army" and served honorably. After active duty, he pursued Visual Communications from the Institute of American Indian Arts, and Fine Arts in Digital Arts from the University of Oregon. From the knowledge he gained from these institutions, he created his own form of communication by utilizing color, shapes, forms, movements and different elements of visual and audio communication to evoke memories and emotions. "I am controlled by my roots from the deserts of Northern Arizona forever changing like the winds and seasons. Structured by the recognition of advancing stars which race across the skies in my mind. With this knowledge I can share, change minds, moods, and much more," he shared.

Patsy Blackburn is a local artist who may already be familiar to many in the area. Patsy used to make porcelain dolls and paint in oil for a long time and over the last few years she has fallen in love with the fluidity of a new medium and has been concentrating on creating alcohol ink paintings. She relocated to the area in 1974 and was the Barrel aging is an extremely important part of the Winemaking Process where our Big Reds develop much of their character. This may contribute toasty notes of oak and leather or vanilla, clove spice and char. Barrel aging adds a complexity to a wine's bouquet, nose, and taste. The way the oak barrels are charred, or the species of oak used all affect the wine. The porous nature of wood may allow for oxygen to gradually get into the wine allowing a smoother, rounder finish.

They will then begin to bottle their wines from 2024 in January and February. The bottling process is small, they run it with 3-4 people. Starting with Bordeaux style bottles that are sanitized and then filled with nitrogen gas. This helps the winemaker to better control oxidation. The bottles are then filled with wine, displacing much of the nitrogen but leaving a barrier between the wine and the cork, preventing oxygen from coming in contact with the wine. Their use of nitrogen in the process allows them to use less sulfites, which is better for you. Bottle aging is an important part of the process but not as critical as years past. With just a few months of bottle aging

SEVERAL ICE FISHING TOURNAMENTS HAPPENING IN UTAH IN 2025

If you want to add an extra challenge to your ice fishing this winter, a tournament may be just the thing. Plus, you can help many of Utah's fisheries by harvesting over-abundant fish and also have the opportunity to win prizes!

The Utah Division of Wildlife Resources and Utah State Parks will be sponsoring or hosting several ice fishing tournaments from January to March around the state. A valid Utah fishing license is required for anyone who is 12 or older to fish in any of the events. The entrance fee will apply for any tournaments or events held within a state park.

Anyone participating should be familiar with the ice safety recommendations on the Utah State Parks website and should take all the necessary safety precautions. Anglers should visit the DWR website to find more helpful ice fishing tips and ways to avoid common violations. StateParks.utah.gov/activities/boating/ice-safety/

Important: Some of these events may be canceled or postponed if temperatures are too warm and cause unsafe ice conditions, so watch the event websites and your registration emails for updates.

Here are some exciting ice fishing tournaments to check out across the state this winter:

Millsite On Ice Fishing Tournament

The 10th annual Millsite on Ice Fishing Tournament will be held on Jan. 10-11, 2025, at Millsite State Park. The first day of the tournament (Jan. 10) will be a two-person team tournament. The second day (Jan. 11) will be a single-person event and will include categories for youth, women and men. The tournament will run from 8 AM to 2 PM each day. Prizes will be awarded for the longest fish. New this year, prizes will also be awarded for tagged fish. Learn more and register at MillSiteOnIce.com.

Steinaker Youth Ice Fishing Derby

Steinaker State Park and the DWR are partnering with Disabled Outdoorsmen Utah to host an ice fishing tournament specifically for youth. Pending ice conditions, the event will tentatively be held on Saturday, January 18, from 9 AM to 1 PM. Prizes will be awarded for the heaviest fish overall, the heaviest fish for each age bracket, the smallest fish for each age bracket and the first fish turned in. The event is free, and Uintah County Tourism will pay the state park entrance fee for one vehicle per participant. Participants must register on Eventbrite before January 29. Ds Search Steinaker Youth Ice Fishing Derby on Eventbrite.

Ice Addiction Tournament at Steinaker State Park

Hosted by Tightline Outdoors and Utah State Parks, the annual Ice Addiction Tournament will take place at Steinaker Reservoir on Jan. 25, 2025, from 8 a.m. to noon. Anglers can also compete at three other waterbodies in Colorado as part of the tournament series. Register for the Steinaker event and find more details at TightlineOutdoors.com/steinaker-2025-ice-addiction-event.

Burbot Bash

Hosted by the Flaming Gorge Chamber of Commerce and sponsored by the DWR, the Wyoming Game and Fish Department and the U.S. Forest Service, the Burbot Bash will be held Jan. 24-26, 2025, at Flaming Gorge Reservoir. This annual ice fishing tournament helps to control the reservoir's population of burbot, a cod-like fish that rapidly reproduces and preys on other sport-fish species in the reservoir. Thousands of dollars in cash and prizes will be awarded to anglers who catch the most burbot, the largest and smallest burbot, and tagged burbot.

Registration opens Jan. 1. For more details or to register, visit BurBotBash.com.

Monster Cisco Disco & Tournament

While this is not technically "ice fishing" because Bear Lake doesn't typically freeze over, this annual winter fishing event is worth attending. The Monster Cisco Disco tournament is part of the three-day Bear Lake Monster Winterfest and will take place on Jan. 25, 2025, from 6 a.m. to noon, at Bear Lake State Park. Participants will have the chance to dip net for Bonneville cisco, a fish species only found at Bear Lake. Prizes for the biggest cisco will be awarded for both adult and youth categories. While the event is free, the state park entrance fee will still be in effect. For more details and tournament rules, visit BearLakeMonsterWinterfest.com/monster-cisco-disco/

East Canyon Ice Fishing Derby with Fins & Fur

Fins & Fur Guide Service is partnering with East Canyon State Park to host their annual ice fishing contest on Feb. 8, 2025, from 8 AM to 1 PM. Cash prizes will be paid out to those who catch the top four fish, with additional hourly prizes awarded for the biggest fish caught that hour. Registration is $50 per participant and does not include the state park entrance fee, which will still be in effect. You can find more information and register on Eventbrite.

Mac Attack Derby

Hosted by Buckboard Marina at Flaming Gorge Reservoir and sponsored by the Wyoming Game and Fish Department, this annual fishing contest is geared toward helping control the population of small lake trout — under 25 inches — at Flaming Gorge. This contest will be held on Feb. 15-17, 2025, and registration is $50.

Anglers who catch a tagged lake trout and turn in the tag will automatically win a cash prize. Other drawings for prizes are also available for registered participants, including the heaviest average team weight for lake trout under 25 inches, the heaviest weight for an individual lake trout under 19 inches, the lightest weight for an individual lake trout under 11 inches and for catching the biggest burbot. Learn the rules of the contest and register at <https://buckboard-marina.net/mac-attack.html>.

Quadfishathon

Utah State Parks is holding an ice fishing tournament that spans four different state parks: East Canyon, Echo, Lost Creek and Rockport. You can compete at the individual sites for $50 per location or register for all four locations for $150. The state park entrance fee will be included in the registration fee. The tournaments will happen on the following days:

- Jan. 18: Lost Creek State Park
- Jan. 19: East Canyon State Park
- Feb. 1: Rockport State Park
- Feb. 2: Echo State Park

Learn more and register at Parkspass.utah.gov/parks/quadfishathon/info.

Learn tips for ice fishing

If you want to improve your ice fishing skills before the tournaments — or if you've never been ice fishing and are excited to try it — you should consider attending an upcoming DWR ice fishing clinic. The event will be held Saturday, Jan. 11, from 10 a.m. to noon, at the DWR Price Office at 319 N Carbonville Road in Price. Participants will learn the basics of ice fishing, including ice safety, equipment, lure selection and fishing techniques. While the event is free, participants are asked to register for it in advance on Eventbrite.

Most fishing tournaments require organizers to obtain a certificate of registration from the DWR. Find more information about how to apply and learn what is required by visiting the DWR website.

ADAM MAST'S FAVORITE FILM EXPERIENCES OF 2024!

By Adam Mast

Let me preface this Best Films of 2024 list with a brief admission: There were many noteworthy films that I didn't make it out to see in 2024. Simply too many movies and not enough time. This is to say nothing of the fact that many of the awards contenders ("The Brutalist" among them) are still in limited release.

This list (as is the case with all best-of lists) simply represents the five titles that moved me most throughout 2024;

THELMA

You will find a few 2024 films as charming, as entertaining, and as downright adorable as Josh Margolin's wonderful ode to grandmas. "Thelma" is funny, poignant, and surprisingly multi-layered. Instantly relatable, too. After all, one thing we can't escape is getting older. Featuring a delightful June Squibb in the title role, this Golden Years-inspired action movie finds an elderly woman taking matters into her own hands after falling prey to a dastardly telephone scammer. Ultimately, Thelma teams with an old friend (played by the late, great Richard Roundtree) and heads out on a dangerous Tom Cruise-style mission all in an effort to get back what is rightfully hers. In addition to the unforgettable pairing of Squibb and Roundtree, this irresistible movie also features a warm and undeniably affable performance by Fred Hechinger as Thelma's adoring grandson. During a post-screening Q&A back in January, Margolin was quick to point out that watching your elderly grandmother make her way up a flight of stairs can be every bit as terrifying as watching Tom Cruise dangle from a building several stories up, and he perfectly captures this sense of danger throughout the unforgettable crowd-pleasing gem that is "Thelma."

SUPER/MAN: THE CHRISTOPHER REEVE STORY

The emotional powerhouse that is "Super/Man: The Christopher Reeve Story" traces Reeve's career from his humble beginnings as a classically trained actor to his hitting the big time after being handpicked by director Richard Donner to play the world's most famous superhero. Ultimately, however, Reeve's life would forever be altered following a tragic equestrian accident that would leave him permanently paralyzed. As directed by Ian Bonhote and Peter Ettedugi, "Super/Man" is inspirational and moving in all of the ways you'd expect, but it certainly doesn't shy away from the darker aspects of Reeve's highs and lows. Included: A look at a strained relationship between he and his father as well as his thoughts of suicide following a horrific accident that very well could have taken his life. Beyond that, "Super/Man" is punctuated by rare behind-the-scenes footage and candid interviews with the likes of Reeve himself as well as his loving wife, his adoring children, and many of his lifelong industry friends (i.e. Susan Sarandon, the aforementioned Donner, and a compassionate Robin Williams.) As was the case with last year's stellar Michael J. Fox documentary, "Still," "Super/Man: The Christopher Reeve Story" emerges as so much more than a tribute to a world-famous actor. This is a movie filled with real pathos. It's a story of courage and resiliency to be sure. In short, it's a multifaceted look at a real-life superman and how, in many ways, Reeve was able to take a horrific negative and turn it into a monumental positive. This outstanding documentary wrecked me in all the right ways.

Sean Wang's take on the quintessential coming of age story finds a 13 year-old Taiwanese-American boy trying to navigate that tricky thing called adolescence. With its often humorous but altogether thoughtful depiction of teen angst, there are moments here that have a bit of a John Hughes ring to them, but rather than an 80s backdrop, "Didi" is vintage mid-2000's. Young Isaac Wang is tasked with carrying this film on his shoulders by way of a role that's as complex as it is nuanced. The fact that Wang was 13 when he shot the movie makes the performance all the more impressive. It's a tricky balancing act because his character is often moody and not particularly nice to many of the folks around him. It's a testament to Wang's wonderful work as an actor that he never comes across as unlikable, though. It should also be noted that the writing is terrific here, particularly in the way this colorful and vibrant script brings authenticity to the relationships at the heart of the movie, most notably, the strained but loving bond between a mother and son (in this case, the mom is played beautifully by the legendary Joan Chen) as well as the typical love/hate relationship between a brother and sister (the sister is played by a lively Shirley Chen.) "Didi" is one of those terrific little coming-of-age gems that proves there's nothing at all wrong with familiar material provided the execution is there and, in this case, the execution is definitely there.

LONGLEGS

Pound for pound, I'd have to say that "Longlegs" was probably my favorite horror film of the year. That said, it did prove to be a bit divisive amongst horror fans because it's an "outside the box" slice of horror and offers up "scare" of an entirely different variety. This is to say that "Longlegs" trades in typical jump scares and gore for a tone that is unnerving and unsettling in equal measure. Directed by Osgood Perkins (son of legendary "Psycho" star Anthony Perkins), this tale of an FBI agent (played by an off kilter Maika Monroe) in pursuit of a serial killer (played by a fittingly creepy Nicolas Cage) plays like an extra-artsy "Silence of the Lambs" and I mean that in the best way possible. Perkins does an expert job getting under our skin and he deserves extra props for allowing this movie to zag when you think it might zig. Is it the scariest movie I've ever seen? I wouldn't go that far. That said, of the horror films I saw in 2024, this is the one I thought most about after it was over.

DUNE: PART TWO

Firstly, I'll address the elephant in the room; Yes...I actually quite enjoyed David Lynch's critically panned big screen adaptation of "Dune" from 1984. Sure, it attempts to squeeze far too much story into a single film but there's absolutely no doubt that with that particular movie, one of our greatest cinematic surrealists swung for the fences in a big way. Denis Villeneuve's 2021 take on "Dune" is an entirely different animal. While I quite liked it from a visual standpoint, it was a little cold for my taste. That said, as is the case with Christopher Nolan, Villeneuve is one of the few high profile modern storytellers out there who often finds a way to seamlessly blend art with populist filmmaking. With "Dune: Part Two," he manages to build on his previous installment in every conceivable way. This follow-up is certainly bigger in scope but it's also bigger in heart and that's where it really counts. Particularly where the bond between Paul Atreides and Chani is concerned. The subject matter here is dense (it's based off of Frank Herbert's beloved books, after all) and yes, the movie could have probably stood to be tightened just a little bit but no matter. This movie was made on the largest of scales and Villeneuve is firing on all cylinders. I know this is hyperbole to say, but for my money, this is "The Empire Strikes Back" of the "Dune" franchise. Here's hoping that the creative team behind these films stick the landing with "Dune: Messiah."

Honorable Mentions

"Oddity," "September 5," "A Different Man," "Heretic," "Furiosa," "Between the Temples," "A Quiet Place: Day One," "The First Omen," "A Real Pain," and "Smile 2"

HIKING UTAH: OWENS LOOP TRAIL IN THE RED CLIFFS DESERT RESERVE

By Tom Garrison

Trail: Owens Loop Trail

Location: Red Cliffs Desert Reserve a few blocks north of downtown St. George.

Difficulty: Easy with some up and down sections over uneven ground.

Average Hiking Time: Around two hours at a leisurely pace.

Elevation: The trailhead elevation is 2,865 feet with an elevation change from the lowest to the highest point along the trail of 330 feet.

Family-Friendly: Yes

Getting There: In St. George, go north on Main Street until you come to the end of the road at Brooks Nature Park, 452 North Main Street.

From Washington, go west on Red Hills Parkway and turn left (south) on 1000 East Street in St. George. Go one block and turn right (west) onto St. George Boulevard. Proceed west and turn right (north) on Main Street. (Main Street is between 100 East Street and 100 West Street.) Stay on Main Street until reaching the end of the road at Brooks Nature Park (452 North Main Street).

In short, make your way to Main Street in St. George and go north to the end of the road.

My wife, Deb, and I often drive an hour or more to reach the trailhead of a particularly interesting hike, it's always worth the effort. This adventure is close to home, so close the trailhead is within the St. George city limits. Aww, can't be much if it is that close. On the contrary, this is an easy 3.5-mile round trip hike with panoramic vistas and varied red rock structures. What is this close-by trail?

Owens Loop Trail, with the trailhead at Brooks Nature Park. Just north of downtown St. George, Owens Loop Trail begins within St. George city limits. It quickly enters the Red Cliffs Desert Reserve. The hike is free and no permit necessary.

The Reserve was established in 1996 to protect a large and diverse habitat capable of sustaining wildlife populations threatened by development and habitat loss. It comprises 62,000 acres and has more than 130 miles of shared-use trails for hiking, horseback riding, and mountain biking. Three ecosystems—the Mojave Desert, the Great Basin Desert, and the Colorado Plateau—merge in southwestern Utah and the Reserve reflects the biological diversity of this unique region. The Red Cliffs Desert Reserve Habitat Conservation Plan is administered by Washington County in coordination with the Bureau of Land Management, the US Fish and Wildlife Service, Utah Department of Natural Resources, and the Utah School and Institutional Trust Lands Administration.

Brooks Nature Park, the trailhead for our hike, is the site of the original water source for early St. George settlers. Water percolating from the surrounding red cliffs creates natural springs and a small pond complete with ducks.

We arrived at the nature park at about 9:00 am. There is a small, six or seven spaces, the parking area at the front of the park which does not have water or toilets. The temperature was in the high 50s under blue Utah sky. The trailhead elevation is 2,865 feet with an elevation change from the lowest to the highest point along the trail of 330 feet.

We quickly explored the small park, and (facing the pond) headed left around the pond on a broad path. We stopped at the pond and exchanged "good mornings" with some ducks and a giant white swan.

At the north end of the path, about 100 yards from the parking area, is a small amphitheater and a large information sign reading "Welcome to Red Cliffs Desert Reserve." Next to the sign was an Owens Loop trail sign. We headed north up the trail in a small, narrow canyon overgrown with a riot of different plants. This section was the steepest of the entire hike. After about ¼ mile we came to the end of the canyon up against Red Hills Parkway. There is a stepover and another trail sign for Owens Loop heading southwest.

The trail later jogs northwest and finally in a loopy western direction along the top of red cliffs. The cliffs dominate the northern skyline in St. George, hence great views of the town and surrounding area. In places, the trail proceeds close to the cliff edge, be careful. There are also a few short steep sections requiring some easy rock scrambling. Much of the trail is rocky and/or over uneven layers of slickrock. Some of the trail is up and down, but never very difficult. The western section of the trail is often faint.

Being early spring, birds were out hunting for a late breakfast and lizards scampered across rocks, warming in the sun trying not to be a late breakfast.

About one mile in is a junction with City Creek Trail, another access to Owens Loop Trail.

The trail atop the cliffs is peppered with a plethora of small caves and cavities in the red rock—great foreground views. The background views are spectacular, especially as we traversed the loop part of the trail.

The westernmost part of the trail, the loop, features clear views of Red Mountain, parts of Snow Canyon State Park, Ivins, Santa Clara, and the Dixie Red Hills Golf Course. To the south were panoramic views of St. George.

Our 3.5-mile round trip hike took a little more than two hours at a leisurely pace with many opportunities to stop and take photos. Although not deserted for a mid-week hike, we encountered only 11 people on the trail. And except for the distant faint hum of traffic from below, this is a wilderness experience.

I strongly recommend this adventure—an easy hike featuring great views and, typical of Utah, appealing red rock structures. You can't get much closer to civilization and still feel as if you are in the backcountry.

Safety Tips For Zion

Emergencies

For 24-hour emergency response, call 911 or (435) 772-3322. The Zion Canyon Medical Clinic is located in Springdale near the south entrance to the park. For hours, please call (435) 772-3226. Other medical clinics are located in Hurricane. The nearest hospitals are in St. George, Cedar City, and Kanab.

Hydrate and use refillable water bottles

It is easy to get dehydrated while hiking and walking in the desert, so pack along extra water, and be sure to take rest and water breaks on long hikes. There are a number of places to refill your water bottles in Zion National Park including the visitors' center and Zion Lodge as well as a new hydration station at the Springdale bus stop in front of The Bumbleberry Inn and Zion Canyon Brew Pub.

Be cautious near steep cliffs

Falls from cliffs on trails can result in death. Loose sand or pebbles on stone are very slippery. Be careful of edges when using cameras or binoculars. Never throw or roll rocks because there may be hikers below you. Stay on the trail. Stay back from cliff edges. Observe posted warnings. Please watch children.

Watch for flash floods

All narrow canyons are potentially hazardous. Flash floods, often caused by storms miles away, are a real danger and can be life threatening. You are assuming a risk when entering a narrow canyon. Your safety is your responsibility.

Tips To Minimize Your Impact

Pack it in, pack it out & use recycling bins

Each month, Zion National Park pays many thousands of dollars to haul away waste collected from garbage cans and recycling bins. Your experience and that of everyone who visits Zion Canyon can be improved by never littering and making sure you pick up any trash you see along the way. Recycling bins are placed strategically throughout Zion Park, and it is highly encouraged for everyone to use them.

Please stay on the marked trails

Hiking off trails can lead to loss of vegetation, soil compaction, erosion, and unsightly scars on the landscape. Remember, if you bring it in, please pack it out.

Go before you go

It is always a good idea to use the restroom before you begin a hike since facilities are limited to select locations. If you do need to take care of your business, please pack it back out.

Be respectful to the wildlife

Feeding, harming, or capturing wild animals is illegal and can cause injury or death to the animal. Animals can become aggressive beggars when fed.

Please leave it how you found it

It is illegal to remove anything from Zion National Park, including flowers, rocks, or anything else that you might find. Do not write or carve on natural surfaces.

Top Things To Do In Zion

Get some great hiking in

Zion National Park is known for its scenic landscape and unrivaled hikes. No matter your fitness level, there are hikes here for you. Please go to ZionGuide.com to see the details on many area hikes.

Spend a day in Springdale

Springdale is unique to our national park system in that it is almost completely surrounded by Zion National Park. So when you're in Springdale, you're right in the middle of Zion Canyon.

Catch an event

Not only does Zion Brew Pub have live music every Saturday, the property also hosts a handful of events throughout the year, as do the Bit and Spur restaurant, Tanner Amphitheater, Bumbleberry Inn, Wildcat Willies, and several other locations.

Try a guided tour

Jeep, helicopter, ATV, canyoneering, horseback riding, or mountain biking, guided tours are all available. Many of these tours take you outside Zion National Park boundaries and give you a unique perspective on Zion's canyons and plateaus from surrounding areas of southern Utah. Check out ZionGuide.com for listings and ads.

Visit the east side of Zion and spend a day in Kanab

The east side of Zion is generally less crowded, making hikes more accessible and private. These are some of the most enjoyable hikes in the canyon. You can spot wildlife you won't see elsewhere in the canyon. The city of Kanab, situated east of the canyon, is full of unique attractions, like the Little Hollywood Movie Museum and the Best Friends Animal Sanctuary.

Take lots of pictures, leave only footprints

Be sure you've got extra charged batteries, smartphone cables, and memory cards so you can capture all the magic of Zion National Park. Additionally, there are numerous photo tour and guiding companies to assist you. Thank you for visiting the Zion National Park area.

Tips To Maximize Enjoyment

Go on a less crowded hike

The most visited Zion hikes have a lot of competition. If you'd rather not feel like you're in the line at a theme park, consider seeking out a less traveled path. Check out our feature, Less-Traveled Zion Hikes, in this issue.

To avoid the crowds, go early or late in the day

Consider getting up extra early or trekking out midday after the initial rush has flooded in.

Consider coming back again in the low season

Starting in the late fall, the number of visitors to Zion Canyon starts to dwindle, and by December it's significantly less than in the heat of the summer. It is simply a different experience to see Zion in the winter with the snow-capped monoliths. Most hikes are still accessible and are less crowded. You can also drive to the Temple of Sinawava parking lot. The shuttles stop running from November until March.

Check out Kolob Canyons & Kolob Terrace Road

With gorgeous open spaces and plenty of dirt roads to explore, Kolob Terrace Road is one of Zion's best kept secrets. You'll notice the air getting cooler as you gain elevation, and you'll find plenty of beautiful views worth stopping at for a quick photo op. The Kolob Terrace Road turnoff is in Virgin, so watch for signs. Portions of the Kolob Canyon District of Zion National Park are reached via Exit 40 on Interstate 15.

The Locals' Guide To Hiking Preparedness

National parks are seeing an uptick in helicopters carrying unfortunate hikers out of precarious situations.

In 2017, the National Park Service reported 324 search-and-rescue operations, which means 324 extremely unpleasant vacation experiences — nearly one a day. In 2014, the reported number was almost half that. The majority of those rescues occurred in Zion and Bryce Canyon National Parks, and most hikers who end up getting into trouble are either in their 20s or are older than 60.

Despite our highly skilled and dedicated rescue teams' valiant efforts, not everyone made it out of their predicaments safely. Twelve people lost their lives in Utah's national parks in 2017 alone.

It's hard to imagine one wanting a vacation amid the splendor of our national parks to involve search and rescue teams or a close encounter with death.

Zion National Park is often referred to as an outdoor Disneyland. But this is the wilderness, and it's far less forgiving than any theme park. Here are some tips for how to safely enjoy your time in Zion Canyon.

Bring water

You lose more water through perspiration than you realize, and if you are used to a more moist climate — and nearly any climate is less arid than southern Utah — you can become dehydrated quickly without realizing it.

The National Park Service recommends that hikers bring one gallon of water per hiker per day. There are fill stations throughout Springdale and the park that provided filtered water at no charge.

Natural water sources in the park such as creeks and streams are not reliable sources of clean drinking water. If you find yourself in a situation wherein you need water but have none, it is strongly advised that any locally-sourced water intended for consumption first be filtered, boiled for at least 10 minutes, or treated with iodine before consuming.

Wear appropriate clothing

While most paths and trails are well maintained, this is the great outdoors, and a little loose gravel or slickrock can lead to injury — or worse. Think of appropriate footwear as an insurance policy — and if you are a little nervous, a hiking stick never hurts. Also, dress lightly if it's going to be hot, but be sure to use appropriate sun protection like sunscreen and large-brimmed hats, because suffering from sunstroke or severe sunburn during an already taxing hike can be brutal.

Hike at your skill level, and don't take risks

Trails in Zion range from short and easy to long and challenging. Don't overestimate your ability and endurance level. And don't engage in horseplay or other activity that might endanger yourself or others. Some of Zion's hikes are steep, and you wouldn't be the first person to tumble down a hill — or worse, fall off a cliff. Zion is beautiful, but it's also dangerous, so respect yourself and others by respecting the terrain.

Leave wildlife alone

Animals instinctively avoid humans, but the area is home to everything from poisonous snakes to mountain lions. Never approach local wildlife — and never try to feed them. This can result in injury to visitors, and numerous visitors have required stitches after attempting to hand-feed animals. But when humans feed wildlife, it's also not good for the animals, who are already best suited to feed themselves.

Hike sober

Sometimes relatively stationary outdoor activities like boating or camping involve enjoying an adult beverage or two. But when you're hiking the varied terrain of our national parks, you don't want your coordination, balance, or judgment to be impaired to any extent. Zion Canyon, Springdale, and Kanab are home to several fine restaurants and bars — but visit them for a cocktail after your hike, not before.

Northgate Peaks

By Don Gilman

The Northgate Peaks trail in the Kolob Terrace section of Zion National Park is an amazing trail with spectacular views. The trail itself is nearly flat, making it a perfect hike for families.

To reach the Northgate Peaks trailhead, take State Route 9 to the town of Virgin. Turn left onto Kolob Terrace Road. Drive for 15.7 miles through increasingly spectacular country until the short spur road (on the right) for the Wildcat Trailhead is reached. Drive a few hundred feet to the large parking area.

The trail heads east across grassy plains and stands of Ponderosa Pine with dynamite views of the towering Pine Valley Peak to the west. Soon the trail will be fully in the forest with limited views. After 0.9 miles, the junction with the Hop Valley trail is reached. Continue east, and 0.1 miles further, the junction with the Northgate Peaks Trail is reached. Head south on this trail for another 1.1 miles until the end of the official trail is reached at a rocky basalt bluff with epic views of the Northgate Peaks to the east and west and of North Guardian Angel to the south.

For families with young children, this makes an excellent turnaround spot.

Gifford Canyon

By Bo Beck

Gifford Canyon offers a nice stroll through a sandy wash and is very charming when water is running. This hike is nearly 3 miles long and will take about 2 hours to finish.

To start this hike, park in the lot located immediately east of the Zion/Mt. Carmel Tunnel. The trail begins at the backside of the restrooms at the back of the parking lot. There will be a steep, sandy path to climb down before you enter Pine Creek slot. Follow the path upstream for almost 75 feet, and look for a 15-foot wall of slickrock. You can scramble up the rock or look for the beaten path on the backside of the rock.

On top of this wall is a narrow dirt path that is crowded by rock and vegetation. It winds around the mountain to a dead end with a beautiful view of the mountain where the Canyon Overlook Trail is located, opposite is Gifford Canyon.

The path will lead past stone bridge and to another minor slickrock climb. At the end of the canyon, there is a circle of cliffs preventing further exploration without climbing up the sandstone.

Chinle Trail

By Greta Hyland

Chinle Trail is an off-the-beaten-path trail located in the lower elevation west desert wilderness area, offering wide vistas, desert landscapes, and a reprieve from the more touristy trails in the park. Though it's a long trail, it's a mellow hike that can be cut off whenever you feel like turning around. It's a great hike with kids because it's not treacherous, slippery, or steep. Avoid it after snow or rain as it will be muddy.

The Chinle Trailhead starts outside of Zion, south of Springdale. If you are coming from St. George, the turn is about a block before you hit the apple orchard and stand as you leave Rockville off of State Route 9. There is a parking area off the right of Anasazi Way near the Anasazi Plateau housing development. If you hit houses, you missed it. And yes, the trail starts below the housing development and takes you right through it. Don't worry though, it doesn't last long.

Shortly after you get through the housing development, you will hit a sign letting you know you are entering the Zion Wilderness. At this point, you can breathe a sigh of relief, because you have gotten away from civilization to enjoy nature, and chances are that you won't see another soul until you return to your car.

Many Pools

By Candice Reed

The route is moderate with a gentle uphill climb to an alcove, but plan for a strenuous hike if you continue to the East Rim.

The route begins right off the highway. Drive to the pullout near the second drainage on the north side of the State Route 9, about 0.8 miles after the smaller tunnel. Walk carefully along the road about 150 yards and drop down into a sandy bowl on the north side of SR-9. There is a trail for a short distance, and then the sand turns into large flat stones that you can pick and choose to walk on, depending on your sense of balance. A short distance off the road, filled pools carved into the rocks appear. Ponderosa Pines and Juniper trees twisted by the wind are a good backdrop to the reds and whites ribboned through the rocks.

Overlook Trail

By Charlotte Emett

The Overlook Trail is a short, beautiful hike located on the east side of Zion National Park, just outside the Mt. Carmel tunnel. The hike is about one mile roundtrip, and it usually takes people about an hour. It is definitely one of the easier hikes in Zion, but it's still considered a moderate-level hike due to a few exposed areas and sandstone pathways, which can be slippery.

The Overlook trailhead lies right outside of the Mt. Carmel tunnel by the ranger booth. Exit the tunnel too quickly and you'll miss it.

It begins with a staircase carved out of the sandstone leading up and away from the road. Soon, you'll be walking along the side of the mountain and looking down into a thin crevice known as Pine Creek Canyon. At about halfway, you'll walk across a bridge that wraps around a corner and leads to an area of recessed rock wet with the moisture that caused it to erode and be filled with ferns growing out of the sandstone.

The East Rim Trail

By Bo Beck and Tanya Milligan

After positioning a vehicle or making shuttle arrangements at the Weeping Rock parking lot, watch for the small "trailhead" sign along the Zion-Mt. Carmel Highway, immediately west of the east entrance booth.

This trail is said to be one of the most scenic in all of Zion National Park and is on many lists as one of the best hikes in Utah. This trek begins on the east side of the park and climbs over 1,400 feet to the rim. This hike begins with a backdoor view of Checkerboard Mesa as it skirts Clear Creek for a short time and steadily and gently climbs through a juniper and pine forest. On top of the mesa, scenery gets interesting as a spectacular view of Echo Canyon takes center stage.

Current Trail Closures

Road to Lava Point and West Rim Trailhead closed - This is a regular, seasonal closure, and we will change when snow melts. Lava Point Overlook is also closed. Closed trail bridge at Zion Lodge (Shuttle Stop #5) - To access Emerald Pools, start your hike at the Court of the Patriarchs (Shuttle Stop #4) or the Grotto (Shuttle Stop #6). Weeping Rock Shuttle Bus Stop, Due to rockfall, the area near Weeping Rock is temporarily closed. Toxic Cyanobacteria in the Virgin River and the streams of Zion National Park - Do not submerge your head in or filter drinking water from still or moving water.

Warning: These hikes are very popular and often overcrowded. If you are feeling up to some of the more difficult hikes, try some of these popular hikes.

Angels Landing via West Rim Trail

Possibly the most popular hike in Zion, Angels Landing takes around four hours to complete, covers just under 5 1/2 miles, and requires a permit to hike. As you work your way up the 1,488-foot change in elevation, you'll want to look out for long drop-offs. This hike is not for young children or people with a fear of heights. Be sure to enjoy, but be careful along the last section of the hike, which is a steep, narrow ridge to the summit. The hike starts at The Grotto.

The Narrows via Riverside Walk

A full-day hike at 8 hours, the Narrows can pose extra dangers depending on the weather. High water levels can prevent access to the Narrows, so be sure to check with the visitor center before beginning this 9 1/2-mile hike. You'll start this hike at Temple of Sinawava.

Kolob Arch via La Verkin Creek Trail

creeks and connects to the trail to Kolob Arch, one of the world's largest freestanding arches. A full-day hike, it will take around 8 hours to finish the 14-fourteen mile trip. This hike starts at Kolob Canyons Road.

If you are looking for something more moderate, try some of these mid-range hikes.

Kayenta Trail

This two-hour hike starts at the Grotto and goes for two miles. You'll gain 150 feet in elevation, and the trail does have long drop-offs. This unpaved climb connects the Grotto to the Emerald Pools trails.

Canyon Overlook Trail

Starting at Zion-Mt. Carmel Highway, this one-hour hike provides a 163-foot gain in elevation over the course of a mile. This rocky and uneven trail ends at a viewpoint for Pine Creek Canyon and lower Zion Canyon. While this trail is mostly fenced, there are long drop-offs.

Taylor Creek Trail

You'll begin this five-mile hike at Kolob Canyons Road. It should take around 4 hours to complete and provides a 450-foot gain in elevation. Larger groups may need to split up, as this hike limits 12 people to a group. It follows the Middle Fork of Taylor Creek past two homestead cabins to Double Arch Alcove.

Timber Creek Overlook Trail

A quick hike, the Timber Creek Overlook Trail covers just one mile and 100 feet in elevation gain. It can be done in about 30 minutes. The trail follows a ridge to a small peak with views of Timber Creek, Kolob Terrace, and Pine Valley Mountains.

Those looking for something less strenuous should check out these easy hikes.

Pa'rus Trail

Starting at the Zion Canyon Visitor Center, this two-hour hike covers 3 1/2 miles and rises 50 feet in elevation. A paved trail that follows the Virgin River from the South Campground to Canyon Junction, Pa'rus Trail is wheelchair accessible and is open to both bicycles and dogs.

Archeology Trail

Also starting at the Zion Canyon Visitor Center, this short half-hour hike covers just under half a mile and rises 80 feet in elevation, making it a short but steep trail. This trail offers trailside exhibits and views of several prehistoric buildings.

Grotto Trail

Starting at Zion Lodge or the Grotto, this trail connects the two locations and can be combined with the Middle Emerald Pools and Kayenta trails to create a 2 1/2-mile loop. The non-loop version should take about 30 minutes and rises 35 feet over one mile.

Riverside Walk

Starting at Temple of Sinawava, this 1 1/2-hour hike cover just over two miles and rises 57 feet in elevation. While it is wheelchair accessible, there are minor drop-offs. The trail, which is paved, offers trailside exhibits as it follows the Virgin Rivet along the bottom of a narrow canyon.

Southern Utah State & National Parks

ANASAZI STATE PARK MUSEUM - This ancient Indian village in the heart of Utah's canyon country was one of the largest Anasazi communities west of the Colorado River. The site is believed to have been occupied from A.D. 1050 to 1200. The village remains largely unexcavated, but many artifacts have been uncovered and are on display in the newly remodeled museum. Anasazi State Park is in the picturesque town of Boulder on State Route 12. Group and individual picnic areas are available. There is no camping. (435) 335-7308.

BAKER - Baker Reservoir is a small lake on the Santa Clara River four miles north of Veyo on Utah State Route 18. It is a 63-acre lake with an average depth of about 20 feet. Many people come to the reservoir to camp at one of its 10 campsites and to fish. The reservoir is stocked with rainbow trout and contains brown trout, green sunfish, crayfish, redbreast shiner, and mountain sucker. It has picnic areas and vault toilets. There is a fee for visiting the reservoir and no boat ramp.

BRYCE CANYON - Bryce Canyon National Park is a scientist's laboratory and a child's playground. Because Bryce transcends 2,000 feet of elevation, the park exists in three distinct climatic zones: spruce/fir forest, ponderosa pine forest and pinion pine/juniper forest. This diversity of habitat provides for high biodiversity. Here at Bryce, you can enjoy over 100 species of birds, dozens of mammals, and more than a thousand plant species. (435) 834-5322.

CEDAR BREAKS - Sitting at over 10,000 feet and looking down into a half-mile deep geologic amphitheater. Come wander among timeless bristlecone pines, stand in lush meadows of wildflowers, ponder crystal-clear night skies and experience the richness of our subalpine forest. Just four miles off Utah Highway 148, you'll find the Cedar Breaks National Monument parking lot.

CORAL PINK SAND DUNES - At an elevation of 6,000 feet and 12 paved miles off U.S. Highway 89 near Kanab, this park provides a fantastic setting for camping, hiking, OHV riding or just playing in the sand. A 265-acre conservation area prohibits motorized vehicles in order to protect the Coral Pink beetle (found nowhere else in the world) and its habitat. The mule deer, jackrabbit, kit fox, coyote, and many small rodents also make the park their home. (435) 648-2800.

DEAD HORSE POINT - Dead Horse Point State Park is perhaps Utah's most spectacular state park. Dead Horse Point is a promontory of stone surrounded by steep cliffs near Moab. The overlook at Dead Horse Point is 6,000 feet above sea level. Two-thousand feet below, the Colorado River winds its way from the continental divide in Colorado to the Gulf of California, a distance of 1,400 miles. (435) 259-2614.

DINOSAUR TRACKS - The St. George Dinosaur Discovery Site at Johnson Farm is home to exceptionally well-preserved dinosaur tracks, some displaying skin impressions. These tracks, along with hundreds of fossil fish, plants, rare dinosaur remains, invertebrates' traces, and important sedimentary structures, show evidence that this site was produced along the western edge of a large, Early Jurassic (age between 195-198 million years ago) freshwater lake. (435) 574-3466.

ENTERPRISE - There are two reservoirs in the Bull Valley Mountains 10 miles southwest of the town of Enterprise. The main one is Upper Enterprise Reservoir, about 250 acres with an average depth of about 50 feet, while Lower Enterprise Reservoir is 79 acres. Many come to the reservoir to camp, fish hike, and boat. The Honeycomb Campground is situated between both lakes and has 21 campsites and flush toilets. There is a boat ramp on Upper Enterprise Reservoir and several fishing areas around both reservoirs. Fishermen will find rainbow trout and smallmouth bass here. Fees are charged.

FOUR CORNERS - The Four Corners is the only place in the U.S. where four states come together at one place: Arizona, New Mexico, Utah and Colorado. Here, a person can put each of their hands and feet in four states at the same time. The unique landmark is on Navajo Nation land and is open for visits from the public. West of U.S. Highway 160, 40 miles southwest of Cortez, Colo. (928) 871-6436.

GRAND CANYON - A World Heritage Site encompassing 1,218,375 acres on the Colorado Plateau in northwestern Arizona. The land is semi-arid and consists of raised plateaus and structural basins typical of the southwestern United States. (928) 638-7888.

GRAND STAIRCASE-ESCALANTE NATIONAL MONUMENT - Nearly 1.9 million acres of America's public lands and located between Bryce Canyon and Glen Canyon Recreational Areas. From its namesake Grand Staircase of cliffs and terraces across the rugged Kaiparowits Plateau to the beauty of the Escalante River Canyons, the Monument's size, resources, and isolated location provide amazing opportunities.

GUNLOCK - In scenic red rock country, 15 miles northwest of St. George, lies the 240-acre Gunlock State Park and Reservoir where year-round boating, water sports, and quality fishing for bass and catfish attract visitors. Facilities include boat launching ramp and pit privies. (435) 628-2255.

LAKE MEAD - Lake Mead National Recreation Area offers a wealth of things to do and places to go year-round. Its huge lakes cater to boaters, swimmers, sunbathers and fishermen, while its desert rewards hikers, wildlife photographers, and roadside sightseers. It is also home to thousands of desert plants and animals adapted to survive in an extreme place where rain is scarce and temperatures soar. (702) 293-8990.

LAKE POWELL - In Glen Canyon National Recreation Area is one of the world's great places for houseboating! The 186-mile-long lake offers sandy beaches, cool blue water, and exceptional red-rock scenery. It is excellent for boating, skiing, kayaking, and fishing. Boat or hike to Rainbow Bridge, or explore any of its many canyons or sand dunes. (928) 608-6200.

PINE VALLEY - Pine Valley Reservoir is a beautiful place for fishermen to fish brook trout and rainbow trout. The reservoir is near the Pine Valley Recreation Complex, which has over 150 campsites with picnic and restroom facilities. This area is greener than most other parts of southwestern Utah with pine and pinion trees, and many come to enjoy camping and hiking. It is west of the town of Central. (435) 652-3100.

QUAIL LAKE - Quail Creek State Park provides excellent year-round camping, picnicking, boating, and trout and bass fishing in sunny southwest Utah. The park is three miles east of the Interstate 15 Hurricane exit on Utah State Route 9. Facilities include 23 campsites, modern restrooms, a fish cleaning station, and two covered group-use pavilions. (435) 879-2378.

SAND HOLLOW - Looking to fish? Swim? Ride your ATV in the sand? Do all that and more at Sand Hollow State Park, located between St. George and Hurricane. Bring your boat, a picnic, and some fishing gear for a fun day on the reservoir, or watch the kids swim while you relax on the beach. Load up your RV or tent and settle in for a nice campout, or ride your ATV in the dunes of Sand Mountain. (435) 680-0715.

SNOW CANYON - Named after early Utah leaders Lorenzo and Erastus Snow, Snow Canyon State Park begins just outside of Ivins and stretches northward. Spectacular scenery includes towering red and white sandstone cliffs, black lava formations, and even a waterfall that appears during heavy rain. Snow Canyon offers 16 miles of hiking trails, beautiful sand dunes, technical rock climbing sites, horseback riding, year-round camping, nature studies, and wildlife viewing. This park is a favorite for locals and visitors alike. (435) 628-2255.

ZION - With breathtaking views, numerous hiking attractions of all difficulty levels and some of the most spectacular scenery on earth, Zion National Park and its surrounding areas attract thousands of visitors every year. This natural wonder is not only a mecca of recreational activity, but Zion and nearby Springdale host numerous cultural activities, as well. There's something for everyone in Zion - whether you're looking for a challenging hike or a fun excursion for the family. (435) 772-3256.
